Panthera Dental now compatible with over 700 different platforms

With the addition of more than 100 implant platforms in the last year, Panthera Dental now has over 700 compatibilities. This list includes the most popular international implant brands, as well as several lesser-known and more local brands.

Quebec (Canada), January 17, 2023. Panthera Dental (Quebec, Canada), a global leader in CAD/CAM solutions for the dental and medical fields, as well as for the treatment of sleep breathing disorders, has reached a new level of implant platform compatibility. The company is proud to announce the recent addition of more than 100 new platforms, bringing the total to over 700 compatibilities.

These new compatibilities once again confirm one of Panthera Dental's main objectives: to offer the most flexible and comprehensive implant connection compatibility on the market. Thus, any dental professional working with international or locally known brands can easily perform their cases with Panthera.

"This list is proof of our commitment to support our customers by offering the most diverse implant compatibility on the market. Aside from monthly additions, any platform addition request made by one of our customers is completed by the team and made available to other dental professionals." said Béatrice Robichaud, Co Founder and VP Marketing & Customer Experience at Panthera Dental.

The complete compatibility list as well as the list dedicated to exocad and 3Shape for manufacturing by STL file are available on the Panthera website.

To simplify the compatibility search, Panthera Dental has developed an easy-to-use online search tool. Users simply type in the company or platform name to find all of Panthera's possibilities with it.
